This will not prove a good year for dark horses in the Republican Convention.

Mr. Tilden, through his private Secretary, denies that he intends to marry. This will raise the hopes of Seymour and Bayard.

Don Cameron completely annihilated the Blaine straws in Pennsylvania. It is about time that the mortgage which Don has upon the Republicans of that State should be lifted.

The boarding-house influence at Madison is organized for a regular raid on the resolution to adopt biennial sessions. The long and short of the argument in favor of annual sessions is to keep Madison from going into decay.

The New York Herald will find it a difficult task to regain the confidence of the Irish people even by paying $100,000 toward the Irish Relief Fund. What it has already said against the sufferers in Ireland can hardly be "healed over" by that amount of money, great as it is.

Congressman Pound of this State has introduced a bill to establish Indian schools in various parts of the United States.
There is one at Carlisle, Pennsylvania, which is doing excellent work, and this has induced Mr. Pound to make an effort to establish others. It is thought the bill will pass the House without material opposition.

It is not likely that Colonel Ingersoll will have an opportunity to nominate Blaine in the Chicago Convention. He represents Blaine's interest and would like to be a delegate to the National Convention, but it is stated as being pretty certain that two Sherman men, one colored, will be selected from Washington. There is no man in the United States who can fill the Colonel's place in making a speech nominating Blaine.

Unless the joint resolution prohibiting the introduction of new business into the Legislature after to-day shall be rescinded, the Legislature should make short work of the business now before it. In the first place it should hasten to kill about nineteen out of every twenty of the bills now before that body, and the others should be carefully considered, and if wise and needful should be passed, and if not, they should be promptly indefinitely postponed. There is wisdom as well as political capital, in having a short session.

The State Commissioner of Insurance has made his report for 1879, which shows the number of companies doing business in Wisconsin, the amount of risks written, the premiums received, and so on. The whole amount of business transacted in the State for 1879, was as follows: The risks written, in round numbers, 146 million 500 thousand dollars; premiums received, 1 million 500 thousand dollars; losses paid, 1 million dollars; losses incurred, 1 million 185 thousand dollars. This enormous business was transacted by one hundred and twenty companies, eight of which are located in Wisconsin, and nineteen in Europe.

Assembly Lawrence has introduced a bill which provides that the transportation of the States Militia, their arms, accoutrements, stores, and other property, shall be contracted for by the Quartermaster General, and paid for out of the State Treasury.
It also provides that all companies within the State, shall meet for instruction at their respective armories at least once in month, absences to be debarred of such militia privileges as exemption from jury duty and poll tax. The Governor is authorized to assemble the whole or any part of the militia, for instructions or parade, at such other times or places, and for such a length of time, as he shall think proper; one or more camps may be established annually, at convenient points within the State, to be kept up for a period not to exceed one week, and camp equipage and subsistence shall be provided by the Governor. Each company or battery—not exceeding twenty-four in all—which shall contain fifty members, with uniforms and accoutrements in good condition, shall be paid annually $300, in full compensation for all pay and allowances, when not called into active service, or ordered out by the Governor.

Colonel George W. Burchard, Private Secretary to Governor Smith, has kindly furnished us with a list of life sentences to the State Prison, for the crime of murder, from 1849 to 1879, both inclusive. The table is of practical value and is as follows:

1849	1	1865	3
1851	1	1866	6
1852	2	1867	3
1853	1	1868	3
1854	2	1869	4
1855	3	1870	5
1856	1	1871	5
1857	3	1872	3
1858	2	1873	4
1859	2	1874	2
1860	3	1875	12
1861	1	1876	6
1862	2	1877	2
1863	2	1878	2
1864	1	1879	5
Total	33

Whatever argument may be brought forward in favor of hanging in this State, the facts furnished us by Colonel Burchard certainly go to prove that the crime of murder in the first degree does not increase in proportion to the population. Nevertheless, it will be understood that several murders have been committed in Wisconsin since 1849, for which there has been no punishment, the murderers either escaping or being acquitted. The table here presented is not an argument for or against capital punishment. It does prove, however, that considering the population, Wisconsin can challenge any State in the Union to show a better record.

THE JANESVILLE GAZETTE.

VOLUME 23

JANESVILLE, WISCONSIN, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 5, 1880.

NUMBER 282

THE DICTIONARY BILL.

Senator Richardson has introduced a bill in the Senate, providing that the State Superintendent of Public Instruction shall be authorized to purchase six hundred copies of the last edition of Webster's Dictionary, at a cost not to exceed seven dollars each. The object of the bill is to furnish any school or district department thereof, with a dictionary, providing it has none, or if it has one, is so worn as to be unfit for use. It will be seen at a glance that there are not six hundred schools in Wisconsin that need a new Webster dictionary, and that the greatest number of the dictionaries would be taken by the members of the Legislatures and by outsiders, but not without paying the cost price to the State.
A great many persons have supposed that when the State purchased dictionaries for distribution among the school districts, and among the members and the Legislature and other "official persons," that the State was generously donating so much money for school districts of the members. This has heretofore been the understanding among persons of professed intelligence. The State does not lose one cent by purchasing the dictionaries, for whether a school, a member of the Legislature, or any other "official person," purchase the book, the cost price must be paid to the State.

At the request of the department of Public Instruction, Senator Richardson introduced the bill. It was his duty to introduce it if he was requested to do so, and he should be permitted to exercise that right without being censured after the fashion adopted by the Madison Democrat.
That paper discusses the question on the assumption that the bill is one of Senator Richardson's pet schemes, and that the provisions of the bill as to the number of dictionaries to be supplied, are so loose, that the Superintendent can order 25,000 or 30,000 copies. This does Senator Richardson an injustice, and is unfair toward State Superintendent Whitford.
The bill does not contemplate the purchase of any such number of dictionaries, and the editor of the Democrat knows that fact.

Whoever framed the dictionary bill, the Madison Democrat may depend upon one thing, that Senator Richardson will never cast his vote for any reckless legislation, no matter whether that be to give Madison another State Institution, to add walls to the State Hospital without the authority of law, or to purchase an indefinite number of dictionaries. On all these questions Senator Richardson's vote will represent a sound public sentiment, and in no case will he misrepresent his constituents.

THE DEMOCRATIC PLAN.

The Democrats in the South are never lost for a plan to carry an election. If they can't accomplish their purpose by intimidation, they try tissue ballots, and in places where these are not practicable, they use the "flat" ballot, and achieve success. The method of using the flat ballot was recently made known to the House Committee on Elections in Congress, in the case of Bradley against Simons, of the Third Congressional District of Arkansas. Mr.
Bradley ran as an Independent Greenbacker, and the Republicans not having a candidate in the field, gave Bradley their support. At the election, Mr. Simons, who has now a seat in Congress, received 11,226 votes, and Mr. Bradley, 8,399 votes. The testimony offered to the Committee by Mr. Bradley in support of his claim covers the ground made so familiar in other contested election cases coming from the South. It shows that the Democratic party there is never at a loss for a method to carry a Congressional District, or even a State. The plan is a unique one, is bold and daring, and bids defiance to all law.
For instance, in the case of Bradley against Simons, testimony was produced to show, and the witness was a printer employed in the office of a Democratic newspaper at Pine Bluff, that several thousand Simons tickets were ordered printed on the afternoon of the election day, and that most of the number were printed after sundown on that day, and were used when the count began. This testimony, as damaging as it was to Simons, was not contradicted.
There was no effort made to contradict it, and yet in the face of these astonishing facts the Democrats on the Committee have reported in favor of Simons holding his seat, for no other reason under the sun than that he is a Democrat and he must keep his seat. Unblushingly as the frauds were in his District, there is not a Democrat on the Committee of Elections, and not one on the floor of the House, who has the moral courage to vote against his party.

Another case, equally as remarkable as the Arkansas case, is that of Bisbee, Republican, against Hull, Democrat. Mr.
Bisbee received a big majority, but Hull was seated by the Democratic Congress.
The testimony in favor of Bisbee is overwhelming and in the face of these facts the Democrats find that they will have some trouble with their conscience to keep Hull in his seat. But to seat Bisbee will be to make Florida a tie so far as the Congressional delegation is concerned, and this alone, however, overwhelming may be the claims of Bisbee, will induce the Democrats to vote against Bisbee. They will not make a Democratic State a tie, no matter how gigantic the frauds and appalling the injustice by which the Democratic member holds his seat. These are some of the Democratic methods of carrying elections in the South. They strike at the very root of honest elections and the principles of self-government. But the Democracy can not obtain the control of Congress except by frauds, and hence frauds are freely committed.

DEATH OF BORIE.

Special to the Gazette.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 5.—Ex-Secretary of the Navy Borie, under General Grant, died this morning at the age of 70, of general exhaustion and indigestion. He was appointed Secretary on the 5th of March, 1869, but resigned on the 23d of June the same year. He was a prominent merchant and had accumulated a large fortune.

PARLIAMENT.

Special to the Gazette.

LONDON, Feb. 5.—There was a large crowd to witness the progress of the Queen from Buckingham Palace to Westminster, on the occasion of the opening of Parliament. The crowd cheered enthusiastically. Her Majesty was driven at a trot through the thronged streets. She is in good health. There was an illustrious assemblage at the House of Lords, the members being in full dress, which made a magnificent spectacle. The Queen was conducted to the throne, all the Lords standing. Lord Cairnes read her manuscript. There is nothing new in the message.

PENNSYLVANIA.

Result of the State Convention.—The Delegates Instructed for Grant.

HARRISBURG, Feb. 4.—The Camerons carried out the programme, and put a resolution through the Convention instructing the delegation to Chicago for General Grant; but they had a hard time and a barren victory. Such a victory was almost equivalent to a defeat. The whole moral force of the Convention was opposed to Grant. The only speeches that rose above the level of gibberish were made by the friends of Mr. Blaine. The Grant men spoke little, but voted with great eloquence. The constituencies represented by the Blaine men, also, were those in which the Republican party is strongest, while much of the Grant strength came from Democratic counties. Outside of Philadelphia and Allegheny, scarcely a voice was raised from a Republican constituency in favor of Grant, while the solid rural vote was thrown against him. The machine was in active operation all day, and it worked to a charm in the Allegheny and Philadelphia delegations, all the members of which voted as a unit on every question, according to the orders of Don Cameron. Yet, even with the immense advantage that Cameron had in these sixty-four certain votes, he was barely able to stem the tide setting in against him, and the proposition to instruct for General Grant was opposed by the unexpectedly large minority of 113, while only 133 voted for Grant. The Convention was a respectable and intelligent body in appearance.

The following resolution was offered: Resolved, That the delegates elected to the Republican National Convention from this State are hereby instructed to support General U. S. Grant for the Presidential nomination, and to vote as a unit on that and all questions that may come before the convention.
This resolution was received with a perfect storm of applause, cheers, and hisses, and an angry spectator proposed three cheers for Blaine. Before anybody had a chance to say anything a Blaine delegate offered the following as an amendment: Resolved, That while we pledge ourselves to support the nomination of the Republican party, we see no good reason for abandoning the position taken by the party in our own and other States in 1876, of opposition to a third Presidential term, and we hereby indorse and reaffirm the resolutions passed by our own State convention, held in this city in 1876 upon this question.
It was, in turn, cheered, applauded and hissed, and its introduction was the signal for the battle royal. Then followed a fight, the like of which has seldom been seen at a state convention. The merits of the two candidates were discussed, the mention of their names being the signal for cheers, and the champions of both sides appealed to the delegates in brilliant speeches for support. It was the one great question for this convention to settle. All others were beneath it. Its effect would be to settle who would be the next President of the United States, and there was not a delegate but who knew its importance, and carefully guided his actions. Finally the amendment was withdrawn, but the fight began anew as another delegate moved as a substitute for the name of U. S.

Grant, in the original resolution, James G.
Blaine, and after another wrangle a vote was reached, resulting in the rejection of the amendment and the adoption of Senator Herr's resolution. The thing was done with a whoop.

PUBLIC FEELING.

The Politicians Gossiping Concerning the Harrisburg Convention.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—The news from the Harrisburg Convention very naturally causes a feeling of exultation on the part of Grant's advocates, and corresponding depression in Blaine circles. But the Blaine men seem to think still that Grant will not allow his name to go before the Chicago Convention, and insist that Blaine might be the second choice of the Pennsylvania delegation. The announcement that Grant was not a candidate, which was stated would be made at the Harrisburg Convention, has not yet been given to the public; but the persons who are responsible for the story insist that it is certain to come.

THE DISTRICT.

Gossip Relating to the District Delegates to Chicago.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—The Republicans of Washington will hold a convention tomorrow to select delegates to the Chicago Convention. A. L. Clapp, formerly Government Printer, and W. B. Reed, a grocer, are the candidates, representing the Grant interest. Colonel Robert G. Ingersoll and others represent Blaine, but it appears pretty certain that S. S. Smoot and John G.
Jones (colored), who are Sherman men, will be selected.

KELLOGG'S CASE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—There is now no doubt that the Democratic members of the Committee on Privileges and Elections will report in favor of unseating Kellogg and seating Spofford. At first it was understood that they would merely declare the seat vacant, and leave both Kellogg and Spofford out. But certain influences have been at work which have brought about a change in the programme.

FATALLY BURNED.

MILWAUKEE, Feb. 4.—A shocking accident occurred yesterday afternoon at the residence of William Young, No. 195 Ninth street. The victim was an orphan girl 18 years of age, named Mary Hirt, who had been employed in the family of Mr. Young as a domestic for the past nine months. At 3:30 o'clock while engaged in the kitchen, Mary made use of her apron to lift a heated cover off the range. In stooping over the range her dress came in contact with the fire-place and ignited, but she did not discover the fact until the flames began to leap upward toward her face and head.
As is usually the case with females in such fire emergencies, Mary's presence of mind forsook her in an instant. She became crazy with fear and ran screaming through the house, all in a blaze. Mrs. Young seized a quilt, and coming up with the unfortunate girl on the upper floor, threw her down and endeavored to smother the flames. Several men engaged about the house also rendered assistance, but it was not until every shred of clothing had been torn from Mary's person that the flames were extinguished.
Physicians were promptly summoned, but all agree that no hope of recovery existed.
The skin of fully two-thirds of Mary's body had been roasted off. She was burned from the lower extremities up the sides and back, and her face had also suffered a terrible scorching. Death came later. Her sufferings were lessened through not having inhaled any fire in her flight.

IMPORTANT DECISION.

MILWAUKEE, Feb. 4.—The Supreme Court of Wisconsin, at Madison, yesterday decided that a mercantile agency cannot be compelled to disclose the name of its correspondent in an action for libel, alleged to be contained in a report by a correspondent to the mercantile agency of R. G. Dan & Co.
The plaintiff sought to prove publication by subpoenaing the manager of the agency in this city to produce the books containing the report. The manager refused to do so, and the Circuit Court committed him for contempt. Upon his appeal from the order of commitment, the Supreme Court yesterday reversed the order.

A PROPHECY.

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—The Herald comments thus on the probability that Grant would have the Harrisburg convention today: "The action at Harrisburg to-day will be the turning point in the hopes of the third term Republicans. If they succeed completely at Harrisburg they will expect the same success at Utica, three weeks hence, and Illinois will not afterwards be regarded as doubtful.
After the New York convention their principal field of operations will be the Southern States, where they will possess a great advantage if they can come into immediate contact with the colored voters, whose decided preference for the ex-President is universally conceded. Everything seems to depend on what is done today at Harrisburg."

TOO MUCH MARRIED.

RACINE, Feb. 4.—This evening a woman who has been living in this city about five years with a man named Kishman was arrested and lodged in jail on charge of adultery. The complaint was made by a man named Ledington, who charges that six years ago she was married to him, and that she ran away from him and went to live with Kishman.
It is also claimed that she has two other husbands in different parts of the country.
The woman says she left the husband in Ripon because he abused her. She will have her examination to-morrow. The woman is 52 years old, and "homely as sin."

The Big Italian Ironclad.

The long-expected trial of the great Italian ironclad Duilio, the most powerful ship in the world, has resulted in success. As she cost upward of $4,000,000, and has a companion ship representing an equal outlay, the anxiety about her trial performance has been great. She was expected to make twelve and a half knots an hour, and, in effect, made fourteen miles, at six-sevenths power, thus giving a promise of fifteen miles if required. Her 400-ton guns throw each a projectile, weighing about a ton; she has a dozen smaller guns which in some navies would be called formidable. The ship, however, is an expensive one to keep in commission; her consumption of coal and the weight of powder and steel going to a broadside are each enormous.

"NINETY-NINE OUT OF EVERY HUNDRED."

To the Editor.

Knowing the reluctance of the local press to yield their columns to local discussion, I have thus far abstained entirely from all newspaper discussion of the newspaper question of the death penalty. But the closing lines in your leader on the subject in your Saturday issue (January 31) seemed to me to say so much of vicious journalism and so grossly misleading that it ought not to go unchallenged. It is as follows:

"In taking this course, we believe [Assemblyman Love] represents the will of ninety-nine out of every hundred in Rock county."

In less than two hours' time I gathered 123 signers to a protest against this bill a few weeks ago without entering a single private house and visiting but a small portion of the business places on Milwaukee and Main streets. I am persuaded that did my time permit me the petition could readily have been secured to one thousand adult signers in the city of Janesville alone, but in response to your oft-repeated demand for statistics we will see what the positive figures alone teach. If the protest contained the names of all the doubters, where are your statistics? There are 13,188 adult people left in our city to take the other side according to your proposition. Fifteen Janesville lawyers signed the protest. On your ratio 1455 lawyers in Rock County are to be found in favor of it. Three ministers signed the petition giving you the benefit of all doubts, where are your statistics? Two hundred and ninety-seven preachers in the county to balance these three. I have been a close student of the Rock county mind on this matter for the last four months. Have conversed with hundreds upon this subject and am profoundly persuaded that the ill-fated rhetoric of our country press, as well as some of our pupils, has done much in inflaming the public mind with a restless appetite for blood which the sober second thought of even Rock county does not and will not sanction. Dropping in an office at Edgerton a few days since, the home of him who is to be the Knight Errant of the gallows, in the special benefit of the advocates of this bill, but found to their disappointment and his surprise, that there were not so many high crimes committed in Wisconsin last year as there were in the large increase to the population and the greater provocations to crime resulting from the protracted term.

I have also been impressed with the fact the demand for the gallows is largely a flippant surface clamor on the part of very many in Rock county. An easy concession to a passing sentiment. In presenting the protest I met not unfrequently with the bluff "no d-m 'em hang 'em." When a minute conversation brought promptly the concession that made of it a serious open question. I found also that young men were more prompt to call for the death penalty than the old flippant than the thoughtful. Others I found who did not believe advancement lay in that direction but "under the circumstances" thought it influence in moulding public opinion should not decrease this serious problem into a reckless clamor. You're no right to ignore the existence to an opposition that counts a circuit and a County Judge, a District Attorney, a Justice of the Peace, a fair proportion of the bar, and solid citizens not a few. That there are sober men who have serious arguments to urge in favor of the gallows I have steadily recognized. Such I have respectfully studied and have tried to honestly consider their arguments but if the judgment of the management be correct, the readers of the Gazette have no interest in these arguments so I will not intrude them. I remain yours if it need be One vs. Ninety-nine

BRIEFLETS.

February gets up and dusts.
The church-goers rally for prayer to-night.
To-night the Concordia society masquerade is on the boards.
M. C. Smith returned last evening from Cedar Rapids, Iowa.
Social doings and entertainments will have to hurry to get out of the way of Lent.
Miss Flora Smith, who has been visiting for some time in the city, has returned to Milwaukee.
Rev. Mr. Sanderson to-day shipped his household goods to Milwaukee, where he is to make his home.
R. T. Pember, of Johnston, returned on the morning train from the North, from a visit to his farms in Iowa.
Mr. and Mrs. James P. Stinson have more to live for now. It's a wee bit of a girl, and came Tuesday morning. Weight 8 pounds.
Mrs. George Strout did not accompany her husband to Kansas City, but will remain with friends here until he gets settled in his new work.
Charles Marshall, who for some time has been connected with Harry Anderson's barber shop, has bought out the shop under Patrick Connor's store.
The Pember House Club are sure to have a large audience next Tuesday evening at their entertainment. A large number of tickets have already been sold.
A letter from Mrs. J. M. Haselton, who is in Chicago, reports Charles as slowly improving. It is believed that the crisis is passed and that recovery is reasonably certain.
Tom Kean, a professional trainer, who has cared for O'Leary and other athletes, is in the city, and proposes to get up a class in sparring under the guidance of Deacon Monroe.
A. M. Valentine has purchased the fine residence of E. W. Chne, on Jackson street. It is an elegant home, and in location and appointments makes a very desirable residence.
It will gladden the many friends of Will Bowen to learn that he has received an appointment as route agent in the railway mail service. His route is from Tracy, Minn., to Volga, D. T.
Will Conrad and J. McKee started this morning for New Orleans to attend the Mardi Gras. They expect to be absent about six weeks, and talk some of visiting Cuba before their return.
The meetings at the First Methodist are drawing well. Those at the Court Street church are also well attended. At the latter place Rev. M. Updike preached a very able sermon last evening.
The lecture of Rev. T. P. Sawin, advertised to be delivered under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association on the 11th of this month, has been postponed until the 16th of February.
Dickerson's attorney has not let it slip, but thinks of securing a pardon. It won't do though for Frank to stay awake nights thinking of it, for he might be broken of his rest for too many years.
Telephonic communication have been further established with the Harris works, the Northwestern depot and the Milwaukee & St. Paul office, and the balance of the exchange will be in operation as soon as some more bells are received.
A most disgusting sight was presented on Milwaukee street this afternoon, it being a woman so full of drink as to be unable to care for herself. She finally fell down on the bridge in a drunken stupor and had to be carted off to jail on a drag. Such sights are fortunately seldom seen in this city.
Mr. Salsman, the proprietor of the Grand Hotel, has received a letter from Governor Smith, acknowledging the receipt of the invitation to be present at the banquet next Monday evening, and stating that if nothing intervenes to prevent, both he and Mrs. Smith will be present to join in that occasion.
The mystery as to Cannon's hall being so cold on the evening of the readings there is explained. The hall became so overheated that the man in charge went aloft, and opened up the ventilation, and forgot to close it again. The hall can be easily warmed, and the promise is made that no such oversight shall again cause an audience there to be thus inconvenienced.
Marshall Russell last night captured two suspicious looking fellows who were hanging about the streets. They had no money and no recommendations. They said they had come by rail from the north, and had alighted at Milton, and walked from there to this city. They had in their possession a bottle of chloroform, for which they could give no very clear reason, and they were locked up in jail for safe keeping.
Miss Minnie Holdredge is pursuing her duties as Instructor of Elocution at Lawrence University, and is meeting with marked success. She intends soon to take a week or so away from the University, and during that time will give several evening readings. She will be at Fort Atkinson on the 16th inst., at Brookfield on the 17th, Monroe on the 18th, and Shore on the 20th. During the same trip she will probably visit Harvard and Evansville.
One of the first questions asked over a telephone, after the signal is given and answered, is "Who's there?" One of those who delights in experiments, rang the bell, and when answered, shouted in the telephone "who's a liar." The druggist at the other end replied by giving his own name, and asking what was wanted.
"Who's a liar?" was again asked, and the innocent druggist to whose ears the words came from the wires as though they were "who's there," shouted back impatiently, giving his name again, and giving it so distinctly that all who sat in the office, heard his innocent plea of guilty to the charge. The third time the query was put the druggist caught the words more distinctly, and was able to respond "you are." He don't have any too much faith in the telephone since then.

WORDS FROM WAUPUN.

Christiansen Anxious to Find Out What has Become of Mrs. Fogarty.
Christiansen, from the confines of his cell at Waupun, of which he has a life lease for his part in the murder of Fogarty, thus writes to the City Marshal: WAUPUN, Feb. 1, 1886.
Mr. Dear Russell,
ALAS! I make few enough, to drop you a few lines, hoping, that the are well-com, by you. Mr. Russell, I like to know something, about, Mrs. K. Fogarty, and there for, do I write to you.
What did become of Kate, where is she do you know, of so, please and let me know? for I like to know me and old love, cannot, pass away so fast, that is, the people believe, that who where in love.
Mr. Russell the last, words, you spok to me are, chasing me on, my lonely way, I am not, the one, to give up to sorrow, for I always think so.
On what is the use of repining. For where there is a will there is a way. To-morrow the sun may be shining. Although it is cloudy to-day:
So you see, that I do, the best, I can let com what will, I be gay and happy still this is all at prissend hoping that you will answer this, I remain with respect Yours
HENRY CHRISTIANSEN
Waupun Wis
My best respect to all that know me do not forget Mrs. K. Fogarty from me her friend forever.
H. C.
From the above it does not appear that Christiansen is very gloomy or down-hearted, and his constancy seems to be unwavering.
MR. LOUIS NEILMAN, Mahanoy City, Pa., informs us that his wife suffered for a whole year with Pains in the Back, and was at times unable to attend to her household duties. He procured a bottle of Dr. J. C. Williams' Pink Pills, and this wonderful remedy relieved her at once, and effected a permanent cure.

MEETING OF THE PRESBYTERY.
A special meeting of the Milwaukee Presbyterian church was held this afternoon at the Presbyterian church for the purpose of formally dissolving the pastoral relationship heretofore existing between Rev. J. W. Sanderson and that church. There were present Rev. John McLean, of Beloit, Rev. Mr. Dickinson, of Brookfield, Rev. J. L. W. Caton, of Lima, Rev. W. Brown, of Jackson, Rev. J. W. Sanderson, Rev. D. B. Belton, Rev. J. P. Hale and Elder Edward Rager. Rev. Mr. McLean served as Moderator and Rev. Mr. Dickinson as Clerk pro tem, and the necessary action being put forward, was speedily taken.
MONTREAL FROM CANADA.
R. L. Mosely, of Montreal, Canada, certified Sept. 27, 1879, that he had suffered terribly from dyspepsia, and was completely cured by taking Warner's Safe Bitters. He says: "My appetite is good, and I now suffer no inconvenience from eating heavy meals." These Bitters are also a specific for all skin diseases.
A HAPPY GATHERING.
Last evening Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Smith received and entertained very handsomely a large number of their friends, at their residence on Court street. Music, dancing, card playing and social chit-chat filled the hours, and the refreshments presented as elaborate a variety, and were served in as beautiful and tempting a manner as ever graced a social gathering in this city. Three rooms were set apart for those who delight to dance, and the two larger of these, opening into each other, had the floors waxed. Harry Anderson's orchestra furnished the music which was excellent. The company numbered about one hundred, and presented an elegant showing of costumes. All pronounce the party a grand success. Mr. and Mrs. Smith were pleasantly assisted in receiving their friends by Mr. and Mrs. O. Sutherland. The guests were most kindly cared for, and the enjoyment of the evening was complete.
ABOUT THE SAME.
There is but little change in Mr. Robbins' condition since yesterday, he biologically rose the worse, and his symptoms fully as favorable as at any time.
THE WEATHER.
REPORTED BY PRENTISS & EVENSON, DRUGGISTS.
The thermometer at 6 o'clock last evening stood at 10 degrees above; at 1 o'clock a. m. to-day, at 20 above; at 7 o'clock a. m. at 20 degrees above, and at 1 o'clock p. m. at 20 degrees above. Strong wind.
The indications to-day are, for the upper lake region, upper Mississippi and lower Missouri valleys, partly cloudy weather and areas of light snow, southwest to north west winds, followed during the night by colder clearing weather and rising barometer.

SARATOGA SPRINGS, August 20, 1879.
Messrs MORGAN & ALLEN, 59 John St., New York City:
Gentlemen—Having noticed your advertisement in the Daily Saratogian, I wish to add to your list of testimonials my own. Thirteen years ago I was sick with Bright's Disease for eight months without receiving the slightest benefit from the doctors. Fortunately my "Constitution" was called, and after using two bottles I was entirely cured. Any one afflicted in like manner should not hesitate to use your remedy. I should be happy to see any one on the subject who is in doubt as to the truthfulness of this statement.
Yours truly,

Swallowing POISON!
Spurs of disgusting mucous from the nostrils or upon the face, Watery Eyes, Swelling, Biting in the Ear, Deafness, Grating sensations in the Head, Intermittent Pains over the Eyes, Fettered Breasts, Nasal Thrang, Scabs in the Nostrils, and Tickling in the Throat are SIGNS of CATARRH.
No other such loathsome, treacherous and undermining malady curses mankind. One-fifth of our Children die of diseases generated by its infectious Poison, and one-fourth of living men and women drag out miserable existences from the same cause. While asleep, the impurities in the nostrils are necessarily swallowed into the stomach, and it is thus that the taints to poison every part of the system.
Dr. Wm. De Meyer's Catarrh Cure absorbs the putrid virus of this the cause of poison in the farthest parts of the system. It will not only relieve, but certainly cure it, if it is not cured by it. It is the only remedy which in our judgment, has ever really cured a case of Chronic Catarrh.

Just Look Here! Catarrhal POISON! Dr. Wm. De Meyer's Treatise on Catarrh explains the following important facts: 1. That Catarrhal Poison becomes a constitutional infection, at first local, and finally constitutional. 2. That, being Constitutional, the infection is beyond the reach of mere local remedies. 3. That impurities in the nostrils, are necessarily swallowed into the stomach, and inhaled into the lungs, thus poisoning the Digestive, Respiratory and Genito-urinary organs. 4. That Catarrhal virus follows the mucous membrane and enters the Bloodstream, producing Chronic Diarrhea, Bronchitis, Leucopha, Chronic Catarrh, Bronchitis, Leucopha, and Consumption. 5. That smokes, Drunkenness, Inhalations, and Insoluble Salts, cannot possibly remove infections inflammation from the organs named. 6. That an antidote for Catarrh must possess an occlusive affinity for, and the quality of being absorbed by, the purulent mucus wherever located. Based upon these plain theories, Dr. Wm. De Meyer's Catarrh Cure has proved to be infallible. It not only relieves, it cures Catarrh at any stage. Home testimony! Cured! at Cured! Cured! Cured! W. D. Woods, 487 Broadway, N. Y.
